

GAWLedu: Boot Camp for Beginning Lawyers- Class of 2017

Being a newer lawyer can be challenging. Are there aspects of being a lawyer that you need to learn more about? Do you want to meet experienced women lawyers and become part of an exciting cadre of newer women attorneys over the next year?

Are you a recent law school graduate who has taken a bar exam in any state? Or a licensed attorney in practice for 3 years or less? If so, “GAWLedu: Boot Camp for Beginning Lawyers” program is for you!

GAWLedu is a one-morning-a-month, 12-month program which will begin in January 2017 and run through December 2017.

- o In 12, 4-hour monthly sessions (Fridays, from 9am to 1pm in Buckhead), GAWLedu will cover numerous relevant topics of interest, designed for newer lawyers, such as selecting your practice area, preparing a witness, how to start your own practice, how to avoid malpractice, technology, communicating with difficult clients, negotiating, marketing, and practical research techniques -- as well as one-hour discussions over lunch with experienced attorneys about their substantive areas of legal practice ranging from litigation to estate planning to small business law and more!

- o GAWLedu will deliver its content in speaker presentation/Q&A format.

- o There will be 30+ female attorneys as speakers, as well as some discussion topics.

- o Each speaker will have been in practice for 10+ years, and they will specialize in a variety of types of law in various practice settings.

GAWLedu costs only $130.00 (including CLE credit) for 48+ hours of quality content to help you become a confident, savvy newer lawyer with skills and knowledge to join more experienced practitioners in the practice of law! In addition, the members of the group will get to know each other well over the course of the year, forming friendships and support that we hope will last for many years.

The class size is limited and attendees will be selected from a quick and easy application process. You do not need to be a GAWL member to apply for GAWLedu, but if accepted, you must then join GAWL. You must be willing to commit to attending at least 10 out of 12 sessions. 6 CLE credits are available for participants who meet the attendance requirements. Each session includes coffee and lunch.
