

Classroom Conversations: Teachers Sharing with Teachers "Israel at 70"

April 2, 2018 7:00 - 8:00 p.m. (EST)

Teachers brought ideas to share during the FIRST teacher sharing forum that focused on 'Israel at 70'. They shared ideas and brought back new ones to use in the classrooms for Yom Haatzmaut (April 19).

*A certificate of participation was emailed to those attendees who signed up using the event link.

This Classroom Conversation is open to teacher members AND non-member teachers and curriculum specialists.*

Hosted by: ECE-RJ Teacher Members /Israel Experience Participants:

Susan Anderson (IN)

For the past 7 years, Susan Anderson has worked at Gan Shalom Preschool in Bloomington, IN as the lead teacher in the 3-5 year old classroom. With an educational background in music performance and religious studies, Susan finds the classroom the ideal place to weave all of her interests together. Susan is passionate about early childhood education and is constantly striving to create a progressive, challenging and supportive environment for all of her students. When not at school, Susan is also a musician and creator of a multi-faith performing arts storytelling church in Bloomington.

Stacey Gabriel (MA)

Stacey Gabriel is Lead Teacher in Charge and Special Needs Coordinator at Temple Beth Avodah in Newton, Massachusetts in the Early Learning Center and Religious School. Stacey holds a Master's Degree in Intensive Special Education. She has been teaching in three and four-year-old classrooms at Temple Beth Avodah for the past 14 years. Prior to that she was a Lead Teacher at the May Institute of Early Childhood in Arlington, Massachusetts and Lead Teacher at Dearborn Academy in Arlington, Massachusetts. Stacey has a passion for integrating Israel into the classroom. Stacey lives in Newton, Massachusetts with her husband Adam and sons Alex and Zachary.

Teresa Bobkowska (TX)

Teresa Bobkowska is a toddler teacher at Temple Emanu-El in Dallas, Texas. She was born in Poland and graduated from a magnet school for preschool teachers and eventually earned a Master's degree in Pedagogy. She has spent the last 5 years teaching in the toddler program at Temple Emanu-El but has taught toddlers for 10 years but has worked with children all of her life.